LOCAL AND VISITING ODD FELLOWS DON REGALIA AND MARCH TO TABERNACLE

EVANGELIST SID WILLIAMS PREACHED FROM THAT GREAT THEME DEAR TO ODD FELLOWS, "THE PARABLE OF THE GOOD SAMARITAN."

MISS STUBBLEFIELD IMPRESSIVELY SINGS BEAUTIFUL SELECTION—TODAY'S SUBJECT, "THE JUDGMENT"—MISS WILLIAMS WILL SING "THE HOLY CITY."

Mr. Williams announced his subject for Tuesday night: "The Judgment," and said it would be a good idea for all the merchants who had people behind with their bills to see that they all attended that service. Said he had known men who heard that sermon to pay bills they had owed 15 years. The audience gladly received the announcement that Miss Williams would favor them in singing the "Holy City" at the Tuesday evening service. The singing which has been led by Miss Williams, with the assistance of Sid Williams Jr., has been a very attractive feature of the services, and his hearers heartily endorsed the remarks made by the preacher in reference to preachers' children. He said he was glad it was coming to the time when people did not look on preachers' children as the meanest in the world. He related a little story about "Brother Jones' son. A friend of Brother Jones felt it his duty, although he regretted that it was necessary to say so much to the preacher, to say: "Brother Jones do you know you have got the worst boy in all the town?" Brother Jones answered, "Why, neighbor, don't you understand that? My boy associates with your boy all the time." Again the merchants were urged to be as kind to God as they had been in many other towns where Mr. Williams had conducted revivals. Mr. Vernon, Tex., was held up as an example, where the business men closed their stores for the day service for six consecutive weeks, two weeks for the Baptist meeting, two for the Methodist and two for the Christian. "For Christ's sake I hope you will do that. You need to draw near to God, you have gotten cold and lukewarm and indifferent and if you would just come with the Lord against the mighty, you will wax warm. One of the meanest things that has been done here was when that magnificent man got up in the prayer meeting this afternoon and said he was going to live right from this time on. There are about five hundred in this town that ought to do the same thing, but some of you are so intent on getting the dollar that you haven't time for these

GENIAL IRA MCNAIR PIONEER FRISCO AGENT

RETURNS HOME AFTER HAVING VISITED 22 STATES AND PRINCIPAL CITIES.

Goes Into Canada, Sees the Yukon Exposition and Nearly Sees In to Mexico.

Mr. Ira McNair, the genial and industrious local agent for the Frisco returned home Sunday after a two month's vacation during which his travels extended throughout the major portion of the United States. The News reporter when he met Mr. McNair, and inquired as to the extent and direction of his travels, soon became confused at the verbal relation and conducted Ada's pioneer Frisco agent to a map of the world, where there was traced the itinerary of this champion Ada traveler through twenty-two states and territories. Mr. McNair visited with the exception of New Orleans the several larger cities of the nation. He went far up the Quebec river, visiting Quebec and Montreal in Canada; he sketched British Columbia across the broad continent to the West. He traversed the Pacific coast to the south looking across into the mountains of Mexico. Before this practical agent of the Frisco left, he mapped out a schedule for his travels for the entire two months. From day to day and from place to place he followed it in almost exactitude. He lost one day at St. Paul and gained one day by passing up Bismark, Dakota. He arrived home one day earlier than schedule time, for the reason, he caught his daughter, Mrs. Lottie at Fradonia, Kans., when he expected to have to travel farther west where she had lately moved. Old McNair looks strong and happy and he will resume his duties at the Frisco on the first.

"I AM ALL RIGHT" SAYS HARRIMAN

RAILROAD KING DICTATES LETTER TO DAUGHTER FOR NEWSPAPER MEN.

I WILL LET THE PRESS KNOW

If Any Thing Serious Should Happen the Press Shall Have the Information.

Arden, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Edward H. Harriman, urged by weary representatives of the press who have camped about his mountain home since Wednesday last, came out today with a statement that he is all right. Though brief, the statement is straight forward and explicit, with perhaps a touch of patient resentment at the surveillance to which he has been subjected and a request that reporters withdraw, not so much for his sake, but for his friends, who have been intercepted daily coming to and from his residence by interviewers eager for the latest bit of information.

Promise to Press. It concludes thus frankly: "If there should be anything serious, I will let the press know and as I have never deceived it, I ask that the press now withdraw its representatives and rely on me." The message was so characteristic of Mr. Harriman's affable attitude to newspaper representatives, an attitude which was marked when he was under the strain of a lengthy interview on the day of his return, that most of the men have been here during the scare over his illness, returned to New York tonight, relying on his word.

The general opinion is that Mr. Harriman would have broken his silence long ere now had he realized how his continued silence and that of his family and associates bred wild and sensational rumors.

Reporters Hold Conference.

It was by impressing this upon Mr. Harriman that the statement was obtained today. The newspaper reporters held a conference, drew up a letter and sent it to the Arden house by special delivery this morning. It reads as follows:

"Owing to the sensational stories from irresponsible sources, we ask that you issue an authoritative statement in regard to your physical condition. Nothing but that can refute these alarmist reports."

"One story says that an operation was performed on you on Friday and that today is the first day you have been outside since Friday."

Dictates Letter to Daughter.

Mr. Harriman evidently decided to act soon after the receipt of the letter, for at 4 o'clock this afternoon Superintendent Ford of the estate brought his employer's answer down. The statement, which had been made public in New York earlier in the afternoon, was written on special Arden house stationery. Miss Harriman, the railroad man's daughter, wrote it at his dictation, but across the top of the first page Mr. Harriman had written this message with his own hand:

"Gentlemen—Thanks for your letter of today. The statement below was made by me over telephone today and published. You see it covers the whole subject."

"Believe me, your sincerely,

"E. H. HARRIMAN."

Mr. Harriman's Statement.

"I am pursuing the course laid out before I went abroad and advised by the physicians. I intended taking a rest as soon as my responsibilities would permit. My treatment abroad reduced my strength and vitality and weakened my digestion."

"The most expert physicians in Munich advised me to have an examination by surgeons as a matter of precaution. This has been done very carefully by Drs. Bromer and Crile. In conjunction with Dr. Walter James and Dr. Lyle and the whole result is that they find nothing serious and renew the advice previously obtained, that I should have rest and not see many people at one time, and this I am trying to do."

"This covers the whole case, and later on, if the representatives of the press desire, and there is any purpose to be accomplished, I will see them up here, but now I ask that

THE NEXT CONGRESS SAYS GOV. JOHNSON

WILL BE DEMOCRATIC ON ACCOUNT OF PEOPLE'S PROTEST AGAINST TARIFF.

The Minnesota Executive Says Tariff Law Outragious and That Republicans Are Apologizing.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 30.—Having talked with thousands of voters in eleven Western and Middle Western States, Gov. John A. Johnson of Minnesota says he is convinced that the next Congress will inevitably be democratic. He says the country is ablaze with resentment against the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, and he has not seen a republican or democrat who would approve it.

The Minnesota Executive, who was the rival of William Jennings Bryan for the Democratic presidential nomination last year, has been on a Chautauqua lecture tour.

"There is no doubt about the extreme unpopularity of the Aldrich-Payne tariff measure in the states which I have visited since the bill passed," said the Governor.

"These include Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Kansas, the two Dakotas, Idaho and Montana. I have talked with thousands of men and I have not found one who would defend it."

Republicans and Democrats, all denounce the law as outrageous. No plain citizens and no officeholders try to defend it. Indeed, the republicans seem to be most resentful, for they feel it is up to them to apologize for it, and they do not like the task.

"They make no attempt to excuse the republican leaders in congress, and in my opinion, no successful attempt to do so can be made. The next congress will inevitably be democratic."

A NEW FAMILY

COMES TO ADA

Mr. G. M. Ross is here from Lemoore, Ark., to locate his permanent home. His family and household goods are on the way to Ada. The News assures him he couldn't do better.

CORPORATION COMMISSION RULES ON ADA ICE, MANGUM ALSO IS AFFECTED

REQUIRES THAT ADA ICE PLANT SELL ICE IN BUSINESS DISTRICT AT 40c AND RESIDENCE DISTRICT AT 45c.

Order Made After Ada Hearing by Commissioner A. P. Watson on Complaint by Ross Tipton.

Guthrie, Ok., Aug. 30.—Orders were issued by the Corporation Commission in the complaints against the ice companies at Ada and Mangum, both having been charged with discrimination in price, as well as between customers.

The Ada concern is required by the order to sell ice at its plant, in the business district or the residence sections of the town at 40c per hundred in coupon books, and to deliver to any part of the incorporated limits of the town at 45c per hundred, with the privilege of charging 5c per hundred where no coupon book is purchased. The price in carloads was fixed at $3 per ton. The Ada price heretofore has been 40c for the business district, 50c at the plant and from 60c to 80c in the residence district.

At Mangum the order shows the prevailing prices to have been 35c to some customers, 50c to others and $1 per hundred to still others, according to contract. Owing to the increased cost of manufacture occasioned by use of gyp water, the Mangum price is fixed at not to exceed 50c per hundred. The company is required to place standard scales on all wagons so patrons may have their ice weighed out to them.

Jurisdiction in the two cases was taken by the commission under the anti-trust law, which declares for control and regulation of charges made by another company having a virtual monopoly and selling a commodity which the public in general is required by necessity to have.

Guarding Against Fire.

The New Pastime picture parlor will have the screen in the front end of the building and the operating room in the rear. This arrangement safe guards the patrons from any danger of fire that might start from the picture film igniting. Their new machine is also equipped with fire proof magazines.

TALKING SENSE.

McAlester News Capital: Sulphur, after a full investigation, has found rock asphalt, made near Ardmore, the best paving material on earth.
The trouble with Ardmore is that the asphalt folks haven't prepared plans and specifications for use of every city engineer in Oklahoma, for use in advertising for bids. By proper organization and push Ardmore may as well have home asphalt provided for paving in every city of Oklahoma instead of sheet asphalt.
Like wise, the city of Ada, which is surrounded with asphalt beds of infinite richness and deposit to pave the entire state.

Why shouldn't capital organize the Ada-Ardmore Asphalt Mining and Paving company. Such a company should not only be of financial strength and practical mining equipment to deliver the asphalt to any city at the minimum expense, but in particular should have representatives capable of going before the citizens of the state and secure resolutions to the effect that all paving should be of Oklahoma product.

QUICK ASSISTANCE OFFERED TO A NEEDY FAMILY

At the revival service last night, Rev. Williams reported a family who was in immediate need of help. The matter was brought to him by Rev.
Woodham, who had investigated and charity. The good people of the town are giving all the assistance necessary today. A number of men arranged for food to be sent to the tent where the family is camping east of town, and some ladies are making garments and giving clothes to the wife and children. All the family have been sick so that the man couldn't leave them to work.

METHODIST LADIES

GIVE SUNDAY EGGS TO THE LORD

At a meeting of the Home Mission society of the First Methodist church, Monday afternoon, when a goodly number of the members were present, the good ladies who still have a considerable church debt on hand, adopted a novel plan for adding something weekly to the fund.
Every lady present who has chickens on the place pledged all the eggs the old hens laid on Sunday, promising to bring them to the society on Monday, when they would be sold. That every Methodist lady might have a share in the work, those who do not have hens, are allowing the privilege of donating a sum of money which would amount to the market price of half a dozen eggs. The ladies have faith in raising a nice amount in this way if all the members of the society will lend a hand.

pay the cost."

When Jesus Christ tells this to the young lawyer, he said, "Now I want you to tell me which one was that man's neighbor." Jesus had a way of putting questions to people. He always had a way of not dodging questions, but looking this lawyer in the face, he brought him face to face with his own life, his own conduct, and now he says, "Which one of the three was neighbor to this man?" The man said the one that put him on his beast and looked after him and cared for him.

Your neighbor is not necessarily the one that lives next door to you, but the man who comes in when you are sick or in distress or sorrow and takes care of you. If you are that man's neighbor, I want to say to you in the time of trouble, distress and sickness you will visit him. When the young lawyer said that man that did these things is his neighbor, Jesus said, "Go thou and do likewise." That is what I advise every man and woman here to do. When you hear of a man in distress, sickness, grief, sorrow, trouble, or in need, don't wait until you find out whether or not he is of your people, of your church, or your order, but if he is in need, if you are going to play the part of the good Samaritan, you will "go and do likewise." Down at Dublin, Tex., where they had saloons in those days (though at the close of a meeting I held, the town went dry) during the meeting one saloon burned, and the old saloon man and his wife lost all they had, were without clothes and suffering. It came to my ears one Sunday morning, and when I preached to more people than we have ever seated here, I got up and told those people the condition of this old man and his wife. I said they are saloon people, but it is our duty to provide for their necessity. We raised something like $100 that morning. Some people criticised me for raising money for a saloon man and his wife, but it made no difference what his occupation was, he needed money, and the result was that when the man found the Christian people loved the man but hated his business, he and his wife attended the meeting and were converted and joined the church.

The preacher said that he believed there were times when you were serving God better by giving material help than any other way. If they are hungry, feed them. He related an incident told by Mr. Moody: A little news boy in Chicago, after he was converted, had great faith in God, and one day about dinner hour went to a little street waif friend and said, "I have given my heart to God. Come go with me and we will ask him for daily bread." They went and got down on their knees and little fellow prayed, "Oh, God, give us our daily bread." The other little fellow punched him in the side and said, "Bud, strike him for pie." The speaker suggested that he wouldn't be surprised if a pie or cake or something nice to eat wouldn't bring some hungry man to Jesus as well as anything else. He said, "Brother, get the man warm, get him clothed, let him see some of Jesus Christ in your life and he will fall in love with the Christ you serve."

Mr. Moody once told of a little girl who was standing on the streets in Chicago, who had been told of God's goodness, and as she looked in a show window where she so much admired a certain pair of shoes, she said, "Oh God, for Jesus' sake, please give me a pair of shoes like that." A good woman standing near heard her and led her into the store and bought her the shoes, a pretty dress and hat, and as she told the little girl goodbye, the little one looked up into her face and said, "Is you God's wife?" It is a good thing to go and pray with a sick man, but there have been times when I was praying I couldn't keep my hands out of my pockets, when maybe that thing which was bringing fever to that man was knowing that his wife had nothing with which to provide for the little children, maybe that was helping that man to die, and I thought that if he knew that his family were being provided for it would help him to live. Medicine can't do much good when a man is worried.

Mr. Williams told of an experience in his own life when he was seriously ill, and when he had just built a home and was so burdened with financial stress that he almost wished he could die and have his family provided for with the life insurance money. At this time the Odd Fellows came to his aid and waited on him and left a check for him each week, and at one time when the hour was very dark, as he and his wife were talking the matter over, a letter came to him, containing twenty dollars. The Lord had ministered unto his needs through a Brother he had helped years ago. The man wrote him that he had collected an old note for $200 which he had thought he would never get and he wanted to mail him one-tenth. Then he explained why preachers never and a man who is true to God will be true to his home, true to his wife and true to his church. The next organization that finds a close place in my heart is the I. O. O. F. I have never seen the day since I united with the Baptist church that I was ashamed that I was a Baptist, nor have I seen the day since I joined the I. O. O. F. that I was ashamed I was an Odd Fellow. If I speak correctly, in the United States there are more than one and one-half million Odd Fellows, composed of the best men in our land and country. Sometimes you hear preachers say that all these orders are good for is to protect men when they commit crime. There is not a word of truth in that. There is not anything that looks more closely after a man's character or conduct than the Odd Fellows do. If I should get in trouble in this town, I would appeal to the Odd Fellows and they would see that I get a fair trial, but would not hold me up in doing evil. The man that says that doesn't know anything about the secret order of Odd Fellows. I believe I could say the same for the Masons and some other lodges. I will be honest with you, I would be more scared of being turned out of I. O. O. F. lodge than of being turned out of the Baptist church. The Baptist church will put up with more than the Odd Fellows will. You let me live in your community and let my character become questionable and the Odd Fellows will sift it to the bottom, though the world will not know what is going on. I am grateful to W. W. Sloan that by his influence he got me into the order. It has not interfered with my religion at all and I don't see how a man can be an Odd Fellow and not be a member of the church. I know what it means to be sick. I lay in my bed for nine months, from two to seven Odd Fellows visited me every week, not one left my room without saying, "Brother Williams do you need anything, or do your wife and children need anything, or is there any business we can transact for you down town?" If I were to get sick and needed anything in this town, I would not hesitate to send down to the Noble Grand and ask for help and I would be cared for.

The Scripture reading was from the 10th chapter of Luke, from which the theme for the sermon was taken, "The parable of the Good Samaritan."

There isn't a more beautiful lesson in all the teaching of the new Testament that brings out the duty of man to fellow man than the chapter just read.

1st. We read where Jesus Christ is putting this man to the test, when he tells him he must love God with all his heart and his neighbor as himself. Jesus Christ was an illustrative preacher, he used a great many illustrations. When the Lord Jesus was found preaching down there where they were fishing, he talked about fishing and said, "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men." In another place he talked about sowing seed and the weeds growing up and the sun drying out, etc.

Who is my neighbor? Away back yonder when Cain slew his brother Abel, God came down and asked Cain where Abel was and he said, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Who is my neighbor? Each and every one of us is our brother's keeper and at the great final day God is going to hold us accountable for being our brother's keeper just as he held Cain accountable.

Jesus pictured the man that went from Jerusalem down to Jericho and that man fell among thieves which stripped him of his raiment and wounded him and departed leaving him half dead. As he lay there in all his sufferings, a priest comes along that way, he sees him lying there, but instead of putting his hand on him and asking him if he could give him a drink of water, that man went away around, I don't know what he thought. (I sometimes think what a great reward will be for that man or woman who is always doing something for God's children.) Some say the priest may have thought that when Sunday came he could get up a collection and look after the fellow. Another fellow, a Levite, passed him by without giving any aid. Maybe he said he would go up and get the law makers all together and get them to build an alms house and take care of that man lying down there by the wayside. Then a certain Samaritan as he journeyed came where the man lay, and when he came along he was attracted to the poor fellow, he gets down and refreshes him with a drink of water and lifts him up with his own hands and carries him to the inn and stays over night with him and the next morning when he sees that the man is not able to travel he takes out his money and hands it to the inn keeper and says "You take care of this man and if this is not sufficient, when I come back, I will had any money, though many of them received large salaries, mentioning in particular A. J. Harris, who was paid $2000 a year but at the end of the year had nothing left, because he never failed to help a sick man or any one in trouble, sometimes taking them to a hotel and caring for them. He said that the outsiders would never know until the last day when all things should be revealed, how much pastor's and their wives are called on for help.

In his closing remarks, Mr. Williams said, "The main characteristics of this order which sits before me is looking after the distressed, the needy, the sick and one of its members is never neglected and what they do is founded on the word of God. Every man and woman, if you belong to the greatest order known to the world, should be a neighbor to that may who is in need, in distress, and may God help you so to be until your dying day."

CENSUS OF RELIGIOUS BODIES IN UNITED STATES

186 DENOMINATIONS WITH MEMBERSHIP OF 32,936,445.

More Than a Billion Dollars Invested in Church Edifices—Church Membership Increased.

Washington, Aug. 29.—There were in the United States in 1906, the period of the fifth United States census of the religious bodies in this country, according to the census bulletin about to be issued on the subject, 186 religious denominations, 212,230 local religious organizations, 32,936,445 church members, and $1,257,575,867 invested in church edifices.

A glance at the proof sheets show that males formed but 43.1 per cent of the total church membership; that 8 new churches were erected every day during the sixteen years from 1890 to 1906; that in 16 states the Roman Catholics formed a majority of the church membership; that the percentage which church members formed of the population was larger by 6.4 per cent in 1906 than in 1890, and that of the total number of church members reported 61.6 per cent were returned by the Protestant bodies and 36.7 per cent by the Roman Catholic church.

Rank of Religious Bodies.

The general order or rank of the principal religious bodies in 1906 with respect to organizations was: Methodists 64,701 organizations, Baptists 54,880, Presbyterians 15,506, Lutherans 12,703, Roman Catholics 12,482, Disciples or Christians 10,942, Protestant Episcopalians 6,845, Congregationalists 5,713, United Brethren 4,304, Evangelical Association 2,738, Reformed 2,585, Adventists 2,551, Jewish congregations 1,769, Christians (Christian Connection) 1,379, German Evangelical Synod 1,205, Latter-Day Saints 1,184, Friends 1,147 and Dunkers 1,097.

The Methodist bodies reported 30.5 per cent of the entire number of organizations and the Baptist bodies 25.9 per cent. Thus these two families together embraced considerably more than one-half of the organizations in the United States.

The number of members reported by the various bodies for 1906 and 1890, together with the actual and relative increase, are shown in a table in the bulletin. It is stated that in all Protestant bodies the membership is practically adult membership. In the Roman Catholic church all baptized persons, including infants, are returned as members. In order to render the figures more nearly comparable, 15 per cent has been deducted from the membership returned for the Roman Catholic church to cover those under 9 years of age. Among the Jewish congregations only heads of families are reported as members, so that the strength of this religious body was greatly understated in the report.

All denominations reported a grand total numbering 32,936,445 communicants or members in 1906 and 20,597,954 in 1890, an increase of 12,367,530, or 60.4 per cent. The Protestant bodies reported 20,287,742 in 1906 and 14,007,187 in 1890 an increase of 6,280,555 or 44.8 per cent; the Adventist bodies reported 92,735 in 1906, 60,491 in 1890, an increase of 32,244 or 53.3 per cent; the Baptist bodies reported 5,662,234 in 1906, 949,766 or 52.5 per cent; the Christians (Christian Connection) reported 110,117 in 1906, 103,722 in 1890, an increase of 6,395 or 6.2 per cent; the Church of Christ, Scientist, reported 85,717 in 1906, 8,724 in 1890, an increase of 76,993 or 882.5 per cent; the Congregationalists reported 700,480 in 1906, 512,771 in 1890, an increase of 187,709 or 36.6 per cent; the Disciples or Christians reported 1,142,359 in 1906, 641,051 in 1890, an increase of 501,308 or 78.2 per cent; the Dunkers reported 97,144 in 1906, 73,795 in 1890, an increase of 23,349 or 31.6 per cent; the Evangelical bodies reported 174,780 in 1906, 133,313 in 1890, an increase of 41,467 or 31.1 per cent; the Friends reported 113,772 in 1906, 107,208 in 1890, an increase of 6,564 or 6.1 per cent; the German Evangelical Synod reported 293,137 in 1906, 187,432 in 1890, an increase of 105,705 or 56.4 per cent; the independent churches reported 73,673 in 1906, 13,360 in 1890, an increase of 60,313 or 451 per cent; the Lutheran bodies reported 2,112,494 in 1906, 1,231,072 in 1890, an increase of 881,422 or 71.6 per cent; the Mennonite bodies reported 54,798 in 1906, 41,541 in 1890, an increase of 13,257 or 31.9 per cent; the Methodist bodies reported 5,749,838 in 1906, 4,589,284 in 1890, an increase of 1,160,554 or 25.3 per cent; the Presbyterian bodies reported 1,830,555 in 1906, 1,277,851 in 1890, an increase of 552,704 or 43.3 per cent; the Protestant Episcopal church reported 886,942 in 1906, 532,048 in 1890, an increase of 354,894 or 66.7 per cent; the Reformed bodies reported 449,514 in 1906, 309,458 in 1890, an increase of 140,056 or 45.3 per cent; the Unitarians reported 70,542 in 1906, 67,749 in 1890, an increase of 2,793 or 4.1 per cent; the United Brethren bodies reported 296,050 in 1906, 225,281 in 1890, an increase of 70,769 or 31.4 per cent; the Universalists reported 64,158 in 1906, 49,194 in 1890, an increase of 14,964 or 30.4 per cent; other Protestant bodies reported 226,703 in 1906, 129,166,125 in 1906, an increase of 90,552 or — percent; the Roman Catholic church reported 12,079,142 in 1906, 6,241,708 in 1890, an increase of 5,837,434 or 93.5 per cent; the Jewish congregations reported 191,457 in 1906, 130,496 in 1890; the Latter-Day Saints reported 256,647 in 1906, 166,125 in 1890, an increase of 90,522 or 54.5 per cent; and the Eastern Orthodox churches reported 129,606 in 1906, 600 in 1890, an increase of 129,006 or 21,501 per cent; all other bodies together reported 81,851 in 1906, 51,838 in 1890, an increase of 30,013 or 57.9 per cent.

The total increase noted 12,367,530 is exclusive of Jewish congregations. As to the latter it is shown that the 1906 total represents heads of families only, while the 1890 total includes all members. As the figures for the two censuses are not comparable, neither increase nor percentage can be shown.

Protestants Outnumbered Catholics.

Of the total number of members reported 61.6 per cent were returned by the Protestant bodies, 36.7 per cent by the Roman Catholic church and 1.7 per cent by all other bodies together. In 1890 the Protestant bodies reported 68 per cent of the total membership; the Roman Catholic church 30.3 per cent, and "all other" bodies together 1.7 per cent. The rate of increase shown for the Roman Catholic church was 93.5 per cent, more than twice that for all Protestant bodies taken together, 44.8 per cent.

Males Constituted 43.1 Per Cent.

The census of 1906 collected for the first time statistics of the membership by sex. Of the total number of members returned by sex, 43.1 per cent were male and 56.9 per cent female.

Eight New Churches Each Day.

The number of church edifices reported was 192,795, an increase since 1890 of 50,308 or 35.3 per cent. This represents approximately sixty new church edifices each week, or eight each day, for the sixteen year period.

Seating Capacity of Churches.

The total seating capacity of church edifices reported in 1906 was 58,536,830, an increase over 1890 of 14,976,767, or 34.4 per cent. The seating capacity reported for the Protestant bodies was 58,282,445 for the Roman Catholic church 4,494,445 and for the remaining bodies 760,008.

$1,257,575,867 in Church Edifices.

The value of church property reported includes only that of the buildings owned and used for worship by the organizations reporting, together with the value of their sites, and of their furniture, organs, bells, etc. The total value of such church property reported in 1906 was $1,257,575,867, of which $934,942,578 was reported for Protestant bodies, $292,638,787 for the Roman Catholic church, and $28,994,502 for all the remaining bodies. The total increase from 1890 to 1906 was $578,149,378, of which $386,246,871 represents the increase in the value of Protestant churches and $174,515,441 the increase in the value of Roman Catholic churches.

Protestant Majority.

The figures show that in 29 states a majority of the members belonged to Protestant bodies; in 16 states, to the Roman Catholic church; and in one state, Utah, to the Latter-Day Saints. The states and territories for which a majority of Roman Catholic members were reported are: New Mexico 88.7; Rhode Island, 74; Montana, 73.1; Massachusetts, 69.2; Nevada, 66.7; Arizona 66.2; New York, 63.6; New Hampshire, 63; Louisiana, 61.3; Connecticut, 59.6; California, 58; Vermont, 55.9; Maine, 53.3; New Jersey, 51.5; Wisconsin, 50.5; and Michigan, 50.1. In two states Wyoming and Colorado, the largest proportion, although not a majority, of the members, were Roman Catholics, and in one state, Idaho, the largest proportion were Latter-Day Saints.
